

The Health Department is pleased to welcome two new Public Health Nurses!

Emi Reiner, GN, BSN

Nancy Schneider, RN, BSN

Please welcome Emi Reiner, Public Health Nurse at the Jefferson County Health Department. She is a recent graduate of the University of Wisconsin - Madison, Nursing School. She previously worked in prevention and tobacco control at the Wisconsin Clearinghouse for Prevention Resources. Emi has lived in Madison most of her life and still resides there with her husband and two children. Emi is looking forward to working with staff to provide services to children and families and promoting health and wellness in Jefferson County.

Nancy is originally from Jefferson County growing up in Watertown. Following the completion of nursing school, she lived and worked in Madison, but eventually moved back to the Fort Atkinson area. She and her husband have two children, one a recent high school graduate and the other just completed her freshman year.

Her work experience includes floor/ICU work at St. Mary's Hospital, in-patient psych at Rogers Memorial, and Home Health for Jefferson County. However, for the past 17 years she has worked at Brotoloc, providing support to group home clients. Although initially hired to fulfill a nursing role, she worked most recently as a Regional Director.

She is enjoying the return to a role in which she can utilize her nursing skills, and it has been especially nice to return to a place with friendly familiar faces!
